

METAPHOR WORKSHOP – Professor Gerard Steen, University of Amsterdam
26-28 October 2015
Faculty of Philology, University of Belgrade

The aim of the Metaphor Workshop is to provide PhD students and young scholars interested in metaphor research with a substantive overview of current theoretical and methodological issues in the field, with special emphasis on the role of metaphor in communication.

Gerard J. Steen is Professor of Language and Communication at the University of Amsterdam and the founding director of Metaphor Lab Amsterdam, an expertise centre for interdisciplinary metaphor studies. His main research interest is metaphor in discourse. His main publications include: Understanding Metaphor in Literature (1994); Finding Metaphor in Grammar and Usage: A Methodological Analysis of Theory and Research (2007); Steen et al. (2010): A Method for Linguistic Metaphor Identification: From MIP to MIPVU.

Workshop programme:

Monday, 26 October 2015

10.00–12.30	Session 1:	Metaphor in thought, language and communication
12.30–13.30	Lunch break
13.30–16.00	Session 2:	Methods for metaphor identification (MIP(VU))

Tuesday, 27 October 2015

10.00–12.30	Session 3:	From conceptual metaphors to local cross-domain mappings: the five step method
12.30–13.30	Lunch break
13.30–16.00	Session 4:	Metaphor in communication: when is metaphor used as a metaphor?

Wednesday, 28 October 2015

10.00–12.30	Session 5:	Analyzing metaphor in discourse
-------------	------------	---------------------------------

For more information, please contact Katarina Rasulić at ekv@eunet.rs.